

Ch. 3 Phenomenon

Rain changed to a freeze and with more snow everything was frozen when Bella woke up. After an icy trip in her red truck to school, Edward, moving way too fast, saved Bella from being crushed by an out-of-control blue van. (He may also have crushed a car's bumper with his shoulders, hmmm.) At the hospital, Bella confronts Edward with her suspicions of his superhuman powers. Edward somewhat angrily denied all - Bella is now very curious. She dreamed of Edward that night. By-the-way, today is Saturday and is the day I received the 4 "Algebra 1" challenge books in the mail. I only intended to read Chapter 1 but I have obviously finished Chapter 3 - haha 😊. Ok, ok, it is a little more readable than I thought... 😊😊
